a) Oil Sand

MUFG recognizes that oil sands developments require consideration of their environmental and social impacts.

E) Forestry

Forests provide habitats for various wildlife species. Therefore, they have significant value for biodiversity conservation and protection, as well as serving as important sources of timber for paper, pulp, and other products that support regional economies. Forests additionally play a significant role in mitigating climate change